

Ashlyn Reddick

Hey y'all! My name is Ashlyn Reddick, I'm 17 years old, and I'm from Girard, Georgia where I live on my family's farm that's been passed down for three generations. We raise various species of livestock on our farm which include beef cattle, dairy cattle, goats, and sheep. In addition to the livestock we raise as a family, I also have my own herd of registered Brown Swiss cows and my own flock of Shropshire sheep. I am the only known breeder in Georgia of Shropshire sheep. In 6th grade I won a National scholarship and was granted 3 starter flock ewes. This opportunity would not have been possible without my amazing FFA chapter that I'm heavily involved in. I am the Burke County High School FFA Chapter President as well as the Area 4 FFA Reporter. I show five species of livestock through my FFA chapter which include dairy heifers, beef cattle, sheep, goats, and pigs. I am also serving as a Georgia National Fairgrounds and Agricenter Livestock Ambassador this year. These organizations have granted me countless opportunities to meet so many new friends and make priceless memories just as serving on the Georgia Dairy Youth Foundation Jr Board has.

This will be my third year serving in the JR Board and I am beyond thrilled to have this opportunity. Servant leadership is a calling for me, and I promise that together we can build a stronger tomorrow and organization for future generations by investing all of our talents and energy today! I am super excited to reconnect with so many lifelong friends, and also build new friendships with all of you I haven't met yet! If you ever need anything or have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask me! I am always happy to help!
